It's Restaurant Month in Napa Valley

January is Napa Valley Restaurant Month — the second annual — and the number of participating restaurants, hotels and inns now totals 58.

Deals at restaurants and wine bars range from complimentary glasses of bubbly to special prix fixe menus.

Napa Valley hotels and inns cooking up lodging packages in conjunction with the event include the River Terrace Inn, Harvest Inn, Four Sisters Inns, Napa River Inn and Brannan Cottage Inn. Some of the offerings include:

► A one-night package at the Brannan in Calistoga includes lodging, dinner at Barolo or the Flat Iron Grill, a wine tour and tasting offer. It's priced at $219 weekdays, $239 weekends.

► At Lavender in Yountville, a package that starts at $215 includes accommodations, a $50 dining certificate, breakfast and a complimentary VIP tasting at V. Sattui.

► Have lunch or dinner at the Meadowood Grill in St. Helena and book lodgings for the same night and you'll be guaranteed a room with fireplace, plus a Napa Valley cab and complimentary tennis, golf or croquet.
